

Small and micro reform plan for radio and television networks

This PDF is generated from: <https://www.echodogstraining.biz/17-06-25-18591.html>

Title: Small and micro reform plan for radio and television networks

Generated on: 2026-04-27 14:39:39

Copyright (C) 2026 ECHO ENERGY SYSTEMS. All rights reserved.

For the latest updates and more information, visit our website: <https://www.echodogstraining.biz>

NAB's filing urges the FCC to seize this moment to fundamentally modernize its regulatory framework, beginning with long-overdue reforms to the national television ...

Last Friday, Congress passed a bill that takes back $1.1 billion in funding that was allocated to public media for 2026 and 2027. Public ...

The general manager and news director of Abilene's public radio station speaks on how they are impacted by the funding bill.

Our filing lays out a clear, actionable path to modernize regulations and empower local radio and TV stations to better serve their communities.

The goal here is really to secure local service and to make sure that 43 million Americans that are served by these stations that are most at risk continue to receive local ...

Congress approved a Trump administration plan to claw back federal funding to public media. That could hit public radio stations in rural ...

Proposals for technical reforms of AM and FM rules - including the possibility of a Class A10 FM station - are on the table, and these ...

The Federal Communications Commission is seeking to dramatically roll back regulations on media, telecom and tech. Why it ...

The move is threatening the future of local public TV and radio stations. Now a group of philanthropists are giving money to the Public Media Bridge Fund. They hope that ...

Small and micro reform plan for radio and television networks

Web: <https://www.echodogstraining.biz>

